P&C Parent Network Form

The Ashgrove State School Parents & Citizens' Association currently coordinates a Parent Network program within the school which focuses on developing a meaningful parent community within each class, ultimately leading to a stronger school community.

Being a part of the Parent Network allows parents in the class to share contact details, participate in class or smaller group events, keep track of important happenings within the class and the school and to develop relationships with other parents. In short, it's about parents supporting each other so we can better support our children and our school.

Please note:

In providing your details above, you agree for them to be shared with your Parent Representative (via the P&C) and with the other parents in your class. The class contact list is not to be used for disseminating information to other parents such as the promotion of business matters or sharing personal values. This class distribution list is not a forum for raising concerns or forwarding comments or opinions about school matters. These matters are for discussion with the class teacher or members of the leadership team.

P&C Class Parent Representative

A parent from each class is asked to volunteer for the role of Parent Representative and this volunteer will coordinate the informal class-based network, designed to complement the official lines of communication within the school. The Parent Representative will be supported and assisted by the P&C to perform the following:

- Distribute a class parent contact list
- Organise social gatherings outside school hours for parents and students
- Be a contact for new families to the class and organise social occasions for new parents to meet with parents of the class
- Promote the involvement of parents in school and class events, particularly fundraising events such as the annual Fete
- Attend P&C meetings (approximately two per term) . This is an opportunity to gather updates on key issues, hear the Principal's report and share this information with your class.
- Help spread P&C news, provide feedback to the P&C and encourage volunteers
- Encourage parents to discuss personal concerns about their child or a single issue directly with the teacher in the first instance and then progress to the relevant Deputy Principal or Principal as required.

If you would like to volunteer for the role of Parent Representative for your class please tick the box below. A member of the P&C Executive will be in touch with you to provide the class contact list and further details.
